

Early Years Outreach Worker

The Nuu-chah-nulth Tribal Council's Child & Youth Department is seeking a permanent, full-time Early Years Outreach Worker. This position is a key resource to support families (prenatally, postnatally and with children 0 - 18) in meeting their child's health, developmental, social and emotional goals; and, strengthening the parent's confidence and skills in parenting. Based out of NTC's Gold River office, the Early Years Outreach Worker will do home visits with parents to address concerns regarding child development. The position is required to travel into remote Northern Region Nuu-chah-nulth Communities.

Position Responsibilities:

- Conduct home visits with parents and be a resource to address concerns regarding child development issues
- Facilitates the development and implementation of individual care plans for children that reflect the choices and priorities identified by their families
- Assists the family in planning activities in the home and community which will encourage the growth and development of the child
- Introduces the family to community resources and comprehensive services which will be of benefit to the child and family
- Provide ongoing evaluation on activities
- Work collaboratively with the community to deliver group services that promote positive child development

Preferred Qualifications:

- A related university degree, or diploma with relevant experience in a similar discipline (e.g., Early Childhood Education with experience, Nursing, or Child & Youth Care)
- Knowledge of existing historical barriers to active First Nation families and parent involvement in their child's development
- Sensitivity to the real needs of First Nation's families
- Able to act with tact, meet deadlines, and maintain productive working relationships
- Provide acceptable references and criminal record check
- Must have a car, valid driver's license, and able to travel to NTC Northern Region Communities
